Hedges Wins Nomination For Governor Of New York

New York Republican Convention Names Complete State Ticket.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Republican state convention nominated Job F. Hedges of New York county for governor and James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of Livingston for lieutenant governor.

The convention was in session eight hours. There were spirited contests over the nominations for governor and other offices on the state ticket. Senator Root before leaving for New York said:

"It is a ticket nominated by the delegates themselves. It would have been a most cruel and wicked thing for any man here to have attempted to frustrate the ambitions of the three candidates for governor. It would have stifled ambition, it would have choked natural aspiration for any Republican here to have attempted to set aside either Mr. Hedges, Mr. Wadsworth or Mr. Bennett. Judge Hedges will make an excellent candidate for governor."

Belfast, Sept. 28.—The final meeting of the anti-home rule covenant campaign was held in Ulster hall. The building was crowded to suffocation and an overflow meeting held in the street outside and comprised many thousands of people.

Several letters from Unionist leaders were read and evoked enthusiasm. Arthur J. Balfour wrote that nothing would induce him to believe that the British people or even the present house of commons, which grossly misrepresented them, would try to drive Ulster out of the union if they even faintly comprehended Ulster's passionate loathing of the scheme of dismemberment.

A resolution in accordance with the purpose of the meeting was carried with furious enthusiasm.

Real Indians To Be Present At Logan Elm Dedication

Five Acres Around Logan Elm to Be Dedicated as Park.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—One of the first victories for peace in the march of civilization to this territory will be commemorated next Wednesday afternoon under the Logan elm tree, six miles south of Circleville, when the Ohio Archaeological and Historical society accepts from Pickaway county historical society five acres of ground around this famous tree, to be used as a park.

It was under this elm tree 138 years ago, in 1774, that the great Indian chief Logan delivered his famous speech. Logan justified his warfare against the whites because his family had been murdered.

Real Indians, who will be in Columbus next week attending the second Indian conference, will attend the Logan elm ceremony Wednesday. Three chiefs of the tribe of Cayugas will attend.

An address on behalf of the red men will be made by C. E. Dagenett, a descendant of the Iroquois nation, to which the Cayugas belonged.

Frank Tallmadge of Columbus, a descendant of Colonel Michael Cresap, whom Logan accused of murdering his (Logan's) family, will read a paper showing that Logan's charges were unfounded.

E. O. Randall will have charge of the ceremonies.

Woman's Friends Say They Believe She Was Poisoned.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 28.—The police started an investigation of the death at a hospital of Emma Fisher, 23. She had been taken seriously ill while at work in a knitting works.

Physicians at the hospital, after an autopsy, declared Miss Fisher suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. The dead girl's family say she ate cup cakes for her breakfast and think poison in them caused her death.

Sixty persons were poisoned here recently by cup cakes, made by a local bakery.

GUN MEN WILLING TO TALK

Plans of Gunmen Upset, It Is Alleged, When Dago Frank, Saturated With Bad Whisky, Fired When the Informer Suddenly Emerged From Hotel—Agreed Later to Stand Pat and Make the Best of a Bad Job.

New York, Sept. 28.—Discussion of the circumstances of the murder of Herman Rosenthal and of the attitude of the men indicted for murder took a curious and interesting turn after a long conference between District Attorney Whitman and Charles F. Wahle, counsel for Horowitz, Rosenberg, Muller and Cirofici.

The conference led to an intimation that some of the gunmen accused of the actual murder are ready to treat with the district attorney if he will accept the view that they were unavoidably dragged into the killing and that they fired no shots themselves.

As the story goes—and it is one that is widely current among the reports frequented by gangsters and gamblers—the clique of lawbreakers who feared the talkativeness of Rosenthal did not intend to murder, but did plan to kidnap him and force him by threats or violence to withdraw his accusations against Lieutenant Becker and other policemen and to relieve thereby a situation which promised grave trouble for many gamblers and criminals. But the sudden ferocity of a drunken man, Dago Frank Cirofici, according to this story, defeated the kidnapping plan and brought about the murder.

First of all, this story has it, $5,000 was raised by policemen and gamblers for the purpose of bribing Rosenthal to keep his mouth shut and to stay away from the district attorney. It was said that Becker, Webber, Vallon, Rose and a dozen others contributed to the fund and that the money was to be paid to Rosenthal either by Rose or by Jack Sullivan.

Refused to Be Bought Off.

But Rosenthal refused to be bought off. Then it was that the plan to force him to keep silent was made. Lieutenant Becker's real instructions to Rose and Webber, it was said, were to seize Rosenthal, carry him off to one of the gang's hiding places and hammer him into submission if he refused to accept mild terms.

Rose, therefore, got the four Zelig gunmen, Gyp the Blood, Lefty Louie, Whitey Lewis (Muller) and Dago Frank Cirofici. Not having murder in mind, the gang made no effort to conceal or to falsify the number of the automobile they were using. But in ranging around town and in waiting at Webber's gambling rooms, the gangmen had a good deal to drink, Cirofici particularly, so that when the gray car went to the Metropole Cirofici was drunk.

Nicaraguan Rebels Only Too Glad to Place Themselves Under Admiral Southerland's Direction, Asking Only That They Be Given Something to Eat—General Mena Fated to Go to Europe as an Exile.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Not only the rebel leader, General Mena, but also 700 of his men, are literally "eating out of the hand" of Admiral Southerland, according to advices to the state department from Nicaragua. It is stated that General Mena and his men were found to be nearly starved.

While it is known that the rebels had nearly starved the civilians of Granada, it was supposed that they had been able to keep themselves supplied with food. It now develops that when Mena and his force surrendered they had not any food in their possession. They at once placed themselves under Admiral Southerland's direction and asked only that they be given something to eat. The American naval forces are now feeding not only many of the people of Granada, but also the rebels who have caused two months of trouble in Nicaragua and necessitated the landing of about 2,000 American marines and bluejackets.

The condition of Mena himself is said to be very serious. There is even danger that he may die as a result of his present illness.

That General Mena will soon be sent to Panama now seems certain, though complete details of the arrangement made between the rebel general and Admiral Southerland have not yet been received here. If he goes to Panama, it will simply be the start of a longer journey, probably Europe, far from Central America. He will not be permitted to come to the United States or go anywhere else where he can become a menace to the peace of Central America.

THE MEETING.

The meeting between President Wm. H. Taft and Governor Woodrow Wilson in Boston, Mass., last Thursday night was a pleasant incident of the campaign, and also a forceful illustration of just what a big nation this is and what a great people we are.

These two men—rival candidates for the highest office within the gift of this or any other people—the presidency of the United States—found time to exchange a few pleasant words and to compliment each other.

In the arrangement of the campaign schedules it was ascertained early Thursday that the paths of the rival candidates would cross and that both would be in Boston at the same hotel on the same evening. Consequently there was much curiosity as to just what the outcome would be.

Both men, however, are great Americans and although differing radically on political matters have the most profound respect for each other and both "rose to the occasion".

As soon as Governor Wilson was informed that President Taft was a guest under the same roof, he immediately announced his intention of calling upon him and paying his respect. He put that intention into effect at once and made his way through the lobby, packed with cheering American citizens, to the president's quarters. Here he was met and welcomed by the chief executive of the nation and the following few minutes were crowded with pleasant conversation and the exchange of good wishes.

The incident serves to show just what a Democratic people we are and what a narrow span separates the one from the other. The barriers between men are frail and the bridge of patriotism and affection is firm.

From private citizen to chief magistrate of the greatest nation on earth is but a step and a welcome waits at both extremes.

The meeting between the President and the private citizen, himself a candidate, at Boston, Thursday night, proves what big men they both are and what a grand nation we have builded and maintained.

The demagogue or the snob who would seek to destroy this ideal democracy has no place in the people's tolerance.

What a Book or a Play Must Contain to Be Attractive

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN, Author

YOUNG authors should write from the level of their own mind and heart without any airs, frills or poses. WRITE WHAT YOU SEE, not what you merely think would be delightful and popular nor what somebody else sees. Dig into your own little past and set down what you find there. Almost everything of value you will find HIDDEN SAFELY AWAY IN THE MEMORIES AND IMPRESSIONS OF YOUR FIRST SIXTEEN YEARS when the earth had the glory and freshness of a dream.

You love, and afterward you marry. You have children. You learn how to face life and mask death. Nevertheless the mysteries of your own personality seem to have been established, graven, as it were, on the brain tissues that were growing when you were growing.

A book or play that WIELDS AN UNCONSCIOUS INFLUENCE is the only one that yields any influence at all. Unless morality can succeed by being attractive it might as well resign its commission, for perfunctory, mechanical goodness is not half as interesting as clever, brilliant naughtiness.

DELIVER US FROM STODGY, NEGATIVE VIRTUE WITH NO SPICE AND NO WIT IN IT, AND NO SPONTANEITY. NO NONSENSE, NO JOY. THAT SORT OF VIRTUE NEVER WORKS MIRACLES. INCIDENTALLY IT BORES EVERYBODY WHO IS UNWILLINGLY EXPOSED TO IT, BUT IF ONE DOES NOT LIKE A PURPOSEFUL MORALITY TO STAND OUT AGGRESSIVELY IN HONEST LITERARY OR DRAMATIC WORK ONE LACKS THE FOUNDATION TO MAKE FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

Poetry For Today

TO THE LITTLE MIAMI.

Romantic the rocky and fern-scented regions,
Miami, the grots where thy rambles begin,
By cedars and hemlocks, in evergreen legions,
With silence and twilight seclusion shut in.

There darkening recesses in miniature mountains
Recall to my fancy the haunts of the gnome;
There fabled Undina might rise from the fountains,
Or sport in the waterfall's glistening foam.

Now laughing in ripples and dashing the sedges,
Now fretting the minnows in eddy and whirl,
Now kissing the pebbles that sprinkle thy edges,
And laving the pearl and the mother-of-pearl.

Glide, whispering now under sycamore shadow,
Now singing by hamlet and cottage and mill,
Now shimmering onward through flowery meadow,
Now glassing the image of foresty hill.

The farm boy, as careless he follows the harrow,
O'er lowlands which quicken and ripen the maize,
Reads oft in some token of stone,—ax or arrow,—
The wars and the love of unchronical days.

There steals on the air with murmuring numbers
The moan of lament for a race and its lore—
A sigh for you chieftain forgotten, who slumbers
Beneath the lone mound on they emerald shore.
—From "The Sage of the Oak," by Wm. H. Venable.

Newsie Offers His Only Leg

A most unusual case is reported at Gary, Indiana, where a little crippled news-boy has offered a heroic sacrifice to save the life of a girl he never met.

Miss Ethel Smith, a young woman who was seriously burned when a spark from the motorcycle she was riding ignited her clothing is the girl and has accepted the offer of William Rugh, a crippled newsboy, to give her his useless leg, the skin of which is to be grafted on her own limbs. Physicians declare that unless such an operation is performed the girl will die.

"It is wonderful, heroic," said the girl at the hospital, tears streaming down her cheeks. "I want to live, but he mustn't do it if there is the slightest danger. My life is not worth such a sacrifice on his part."

Several of Miss Smith's friends volunteered and physicians have taken as much skin as they dared from their bodies and grafted it upon the girl. The maximum of skin from 40 persons they declare is needed to save the girl's life. The cuticle from Rugh's leg will be sufficient, they believe.

The boy read the story of the accident in the paper he was selling. When he learned that more skin was needed, he decided to make the sacrifice for the girl he has never seen.

The doctors told him that to remove the skin from his leg would mean death.

"Then take the leg," said the lad. "I don't need it. It will only mean that I must have two crutches instead of one. My leg has been useless since I was 3 years old, anyway."

"But the amputation may kill you," interposed the physicians.

"I'll take a chance," said the lad. "That's better than standing around and letting the girl die, isn't it?"

Strong Characters In Coming Play

A new comedy drama entitled "The Banker, The Thief and The Girl" will be the offering for Monday night at the Empire. The author has provided a strong dramatic story and gives Wm. A. Stanton excellent opportunities to display his peculiar talents. Mr. Stanton has achieved considerable distinction on the vaudeville stage as an impersonator of Hebrew characters. His work is unique in this field, in that he depends not on facial gymnastics, but has studied the race and takes up the details of character and not mere facial peculiarities. He is a real

THE MEETING.

The meeting between President Wm. H. Taft and Governor Woodrow Wilson in Boston, Mass., last Thursday night was a pleasant incident of the campaign, and also a forceful illustration of just what a big nation this is and what a great people we are.

These two men—rival candidates for the highest office within the gift of this or any other people—the presidency of the United States—found time to exchange a few pleasant words and to compliment each other.

In the arrangement of the campaign schedules it was ascertained early Thursday that the paths of the rival candidates would cross and that both would be in Boston at the same hotel on the same evening. Consequently there was much curiosity as to just what the outcome would be.

Both men, however, are great Americans and although differing radically on political matters have the most profound respect for each other and both "rose to the occasion".

As soon as Governor Wilson was informed that President Taft was a guest under the same roof, he immediately announced his intention of calling upon him and paying his respect. He put that intention into effect at once and made his way through the lobby, packed with cheering American citizens, to the president's quarters. Here he was met and welcomed by the chief executive of the nation and the following few minutes were crowded with pleasant conversation and the exchange of good wishes.

The incident serves to show just what a Democratic people we are and what a narrow span separates the one from the other. The barriers between men are frail and the bridge of patriotism and affection is firm.

From private citizen to chief magistrate of the greatest nation on earth is but a step and a welcome waits at both extremes.

The meeting between the President and the private citizen, himself a candidate, at Boston, Thursday night, proves what big men they both are and what a grand nation we have built and maintained.

The demagogue or the snob who would seek to destroy this ideal democracy has no place in the people's tolerance.

What a Book or a Play Must Contain to Be Attractive

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN, Author

YOUNG authors should write from the level of their own mind and heart without any airs, frills or poses. WRITE WHAT YOU SEE, not what you merely think would be delightful and popular nor what somebody else sees. Dig into your own little past and set down what you find there. Almost everything of value you will find HIDDEN SAFELY AWAY IN THE MEMORIES AND IMPRESSIONS OF YOUR FIRST SIXTEEN YEARS when the earth had the glory and freshness of a dream.

You love, and afterward you marry. You have children. You learn how to face life and mask death. Nevertheless the mysteries of your own personality seem to have been established, graven, as it were, on the brain tissues that were growing when you were growing.

A book or play that WIELDS AN UNCONSCIOUS INFLUENCE is the only one that wields any influence at all. Unless morality can succeed by being attractive it might as well resign its commission, for perfunctory, mechanical goodness is not half as interesting as clever, brilliant naughtiness.

DELIVER US FROM STODGY, NEGATIVE VIRTUE WITH NO GUTS AND NO WIT IN IT, AND NO SPONTANEITY, NO NONSENSE, NO JOY. THE ONLY VIRTUE NEVER WORKS MIRACLES. INCIDENTALLY, EVERYBODY WHO IS UNWILLINGLY EXPOSED TO IT, BUT IF ONE DOES NOT LIKE A PURPOSEFUL MORALITY TO STAND OUT AGGRESSIVELY IN HONEST LITERARY OR DRAMATIC WORK ONE LACKS THE FOUNDATION TO MAKE FOR DISTINGUISHMENT.

KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

Poetry For Today

TO THE LITTLE MIAMI.

Romantic the rocky and fern-scented regions,
Miami, the grots where thy rambles begin,
By cedars and hemlocks, in evergreen legions,
With silence and twilight seclusion shut in.

There darkening recesses in miniature mountains
Recall to my fancy the haunts of the gnome;
There fabled Undina might rise from the fountains,
Or sport in the waterfall's glistening foam.

Now laughing in ripples and dancing the sedges,
Now fretting the minnows in eddy and whirl,
Now kissing the pebbles that sprinkle thy edges,
And laying the pearl and the mother-of-pearl.

Glide, whispering now under sycamore shadow,
Now singing by hamlet and cottage and mill,
Now shimmering onward through flowery meadow,
Now glassing the image of foresty hill.

The farm boy, as careless he follows the harrow,
O'er lowlands which quicken and ripen the maize,
Reads off in some token of stone, — ax or arrow, —
The wars and the love of unchronicled days.

There steals on the air with murmuring numbers
The moan of lament for a race and its lore —
A sigh for you chieftain forgotten, who slumbers
Beneath the lone mound on they emerald shore.
— From "The Sage of the Oak," by Wm. H. Venable.

MANY DRIVEN FROM HOME.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Advertisements of persons desiring work, if limited to 10 words, will be carried free of charge. No business advt. inserted without pay.

The annual rally day of the Presbyterian Sabbath school will be held next Sunday, September 29.

Newsie Offers His Only Leg

A most unusual case is reported at Gary, Indiana, where a little crippled news-boy has offered a heroic sacrifice to save the life of a girl he never met.

Miss Ethel Smith, a young woman who was seriously burned when a spark from the motorcycle she was riding ignited her clothing is the girl and has accepted the offer of William Rugh, a crippled newsboy, to give her his useless leg, the skin of which is to be grafted on her own limbs. Physicians declare that unless such an operation is performed the girl will die.

"It is wonderful, heroic," said the girl at the hospital, tears streaming down her cheeks. "I want to live, but he mustn't do it if there is the slightest danger. My life is not worth such a sacrifice on his part."

Several of Miss Smith's friends volunteered and physicians have taken as much skin as they dared from their bodies and grafted it upon the girl. The maximum of skin from 40 persons they declare is needed to save the girl's life. The cuticle from Rugh's leg will be sufficient, they believe.

The boy read the story of the accident in the paper he was selling. When he learned that more skin was needed, he decided to make the sacrifice for the girl he has never seen. The doctors told him that to remove the skin from his leg would mean death.

"Then take the leg," said the lad. "I don't need it. It will only mean that I must have two crutches instead of one. My leg has been useless since I was 3 years old, anyway."

"But the amputation may kill you," interposed the physicians.

"I'll take a chance," said the lad. "That's better than standing around and letting the girl die, isn't it?"

Chalmers "Thirty-Six" Has All The Comfort, Luxury, Good Looks and Convenience of Any Car at Any Price

On these points you positively cannot buy more in any automobile than you get in the new 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six."

This is a strong statement, but on each of these qualities you yourself can be the judge. See the "Thirty-Six" side by side with any other cars, no matter what the price, and you will find it compares favorably with the most expensive.

Notice the graceful lines of the body, the beautiful bell-shaped back. Get into the car and test the restful comfort of the 11-inch cushions. Sit at the steering wheel and see how conveniently located is every device for handling the car.

And these points—comfort, luxury, good looks and convenience—are the things which wise buyers this year are considering.

Please consider these qualities in the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" point by point.

What greater Comfort can you ask than you find in the deep Turkish Cushions of the "Thirty-Six"; the 11-inch upholstery; the roomy bodies; the generously wide seats; the long wheel base (118"); the improved springs; the big wheels and tires?

What greater Luxury? Luxury in a motor car goes deeper than Comfort. It means not merely physical ease of riding—but complete restfulness, elegance, correctness of appointments, eye-delight,—everything that goes to make you proud and glad to own such a car. These qualities you find to a maximum degree in the "Thirty-Six."

And Good Looks? There is beauty and grace in every line of the new all-metal bodies, with flush sides, sweeping bell back and hooded dash, nickel trimmings; leather lining and sumptuous finish add the last touches of perfection. No ears at any price offer you more in the way of Good Looks than the 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six."

What greater Conveniences of operation can you imagine than these features of the "Thirty-Six"—The Chalmers patented self-starter puts your engine in motion. Gray & Davis lights flash on from the seat. Carburetor is regulated and primed from the dash. Ignition switch, horn, air pump are all reached without even bending over. Big tires lessen punctures and demountable rims make possible five or ten minute tire changes.

Underlying all these comforts, luxuries, good looks and conveniences is the fact that this car is mechanically right.

The "Thirty-Six" has every standard mechanical feature that the highest priced cars have. In fact it offers a combination of desirable mechanical features not equalled in any other car regardless of price. Such features as four-forward speed transmission; long stroke motor (four cylinders); genuine honeycomb radiator; big brakes; extra long frames, axles and steering connections.

This car is a Chalmers car; thirty thousand Chalmers owners will tell you what that means. It bears the Chalmers monogram. It is made in the Chalmers shops, by 4,000 Chalmers workmen and under the rigorous Chalmers inspection.

And finally, this car, with all these great features and these splendid qualities, sells for a medium price—$1950, completely equipped. You can't buy more real automobile value for more money. You can't get anywhere near so much value for any less. Come in and see the "Thirty-Six" and let us prove everything we've said here.

DAD GANDEBONE'S FORECAST FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER

OCTOBER.

A scene in Armageddon,
A warrior in tin,
And every now and then a shout
Emerging from the din.
Some folks fancy Woodrow,
And others fancy Bill,
And others still for Theodore
Are very hopeful still.

A table and a pitcher,
A speaker on the perch,
And here and there someone asleep,
The same as in a church.
The miracle of party,
And the perfidy of doubt,
With the usual statistics
Till the watchman puts them out.

A woman with a banner,
Another with a drum,
And another with a curtain pole
Revolving on her thumb.
Some folks say its nothing,
But others think it is,
And like as not it won't be long
Till man is getting his.

The bull moose and the donkey,
The elephant, the zoo,
The trusts against the people,
And the false against the true;
But do not get excited,
Or take it very hard,
For they'll all lie down together
In the same backyard.

October was originally the eighth

month of the Romans, but it brought watermelons and pumpkins in at the same time, and Numa Pompilius, who liked both, pushed it along to tenth place to keep from foundering himself. A Bull Moose party formed to dethrone him, but he held on, and was able in the end to pull the skulls of his enemies around on a string on Halloween with a candle inside, from which we have our present-day Jack-o'-Lantern.

The zodiacal sign for October is Scorpio, meaning the Scorpion. It typifies the manner in which candidates sting one another in the last few weeks of the campaign. October has always been the favorite month of the year. That more people have always married in June has only been explained upon the theory that inasmuch as they are undertaking the battle of life together they probably consider that it would be just as well to begin at once upon the mosquitoes.

The gentle spirit of the Fall
Will come to glorify the air,
And the football player will appal
The population with his hair.
The referee will climb the poles
And sound his shrill official toot,
And the moth will drill a few more holes
In everybody's winter suit.

There is no glory to compare with that awaiting just ahead, when the gossamer gets in the air, and the sassafras is flaming red: A million harps have duly twanged upon the glories of the time, but a poet still were rather hangd that not intone his little rhyme.

You may destroy his throbbing lyre and pitch him headlong in the sea, but death alone can quench the fire that underlies his melody. He'll string horse hair on a pole, and even stronger than before uplift the passion of his soul with getting back upon the shore.

At such a time, though you may laugh,
It would as probably avail
To catch the acrobatic calf
And tie a brick upon his tail.
One whiff of Autumn in his nose,
And lowering his playful head,
His rear appendage still uprose,
Though weighted with a keg of lead.

You can't retain the joy of Fall that palpitates in living things, nor hope to dissipate the thrall in which a poetaster sings. The calf will kick and buck around, the colt will cut a few high jinks, and the poet's zither will resound, despite what anybody thinks.

The better quality of air

Will speed the presidential race,
And a cocklebur placed here and there

Will help accelerate the place.

The troubled earth will gently sway
Beneath the violent attack,
And the trusts will hustle corn and hay
Along the fence inside the track.

The eager riders, all inclined at least resistance to the air, will lash their quadrupeds behind, and feel them fagging in despair. The hungry brutes will smell the hay, and catch the fragrance of the corn, and in their torture curse the day that saw the first reformer born. Ill rues the time when plenty shows a helping hand on every side, and still nobody ever throws a bite for being villified. It never was that way before in any other race they ran, and many a good and lusty roar will sound the perfidy of man.

But that's the kind of race it is, say any creature what he will, and each man's chance is only his with somehow keeping at it still. A strictly uncorrupted trot, with empty stomachs all around, is what they entered, and they've got to make their chargers cover ground. If Rockefeller and his set desire a little sporting bout, why let them wait a bit to get their trust-fed steeplechangers out. We're having one—perhaps the first we ever had, and while it toils, we'll take a care to hold a gun upon the pirate and his spoils.

The Hunter's Moon will sail the sky
To ecstaticize the human race,
And men will trail the pumpkin pie
Through many a city eating place.
The elder sign will grace the store,
To offer men its ancient boon,
And customers will bulge the door
With getting it out of the saloon.

The twelfth of the month will be the 420th anniversary of the discovery of America, and Messrs Rockefeller, Morgan and Carnegie will give a dinner on that date to Christopher Columbus, who found it for them. The 27th will be the anniversary of the landing in this country of the man who put the Penn in Pennsylvania, and it will be celebrated in an appropriate manner by everyone who has put the important syllable in anything since. The moon will be full on the 25th, and the password for the month will be applebutter.

And then November will renew, with somewhat cooler weather, and the poor consumer sewing two thin union suits together.

No Wonder Suggs Was Sore.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The Reds won the first game of the double-header with the Cubs, 10 to 3, and the second was called in the tenth with the score a tie, 4 and 4. Darkness made it impossible for the second game to be finished. Pitcher Suggs was a sore man after the contest. He was promised a bonus of $500 if he won 20 games, and a win against the Cubs would have made his twentieth.

Infant Drowns In Can of Water.

Newark, O., Sept. 28.—Elizabeth Tyrrell, 15 months, daughter of Thomas M. Tyrrell, fell into a lard can filled with water and was drowned. The mother was sewing on a dress for the little one when the accident occurred. She is prostrated with grief and is in a serious condition.

Dog Causes Damage Suit.

Dayton, O., Sept. 28.—Damages in the sum of $25,000, on account of an attack upon his 8-year-old son by a St. Bernard dog belonging to J. D. Moskowitz, are sought in an action brought in the common pleas court by Daniel Piantz.

Man Scalded to Death.

Ravenna, O., Sept. 28.—Peter Z. Hamilton, 35, died in a hospital here from scalds received when he fell into a six-foot vat of boiling water at the plant of the S. Atter Basket company, where he was employed.

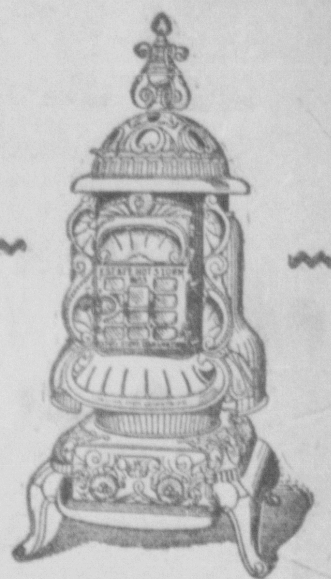

Indianapolis Won.

Washington, Sept. 28.—By a vote of 198 to 196, Indianapolis was chosen over San Francisco for the 1914 convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Fifty ballots were necessary.

Clad Trying to Save Kitten.

Dillonvale, O., Sept. 28.—Anna, 6, daughter of John Possell, died in a hospital of injuries received when she attempted to save her pet kitten from being run down by a train. Both the little girl's legs were cut off at the hips.

YOUR COAL PROBLEM SOLVED

No need to worry about your winter's coal bill if you use the

ESTATE HOT STORM

It burns any grade of soft coal in a highly successful manner, through the use of the Estate Hot Blast and Hot Air Circulating Systems, the greatest improvements ever made in a soft coal stove.

It heats by both radiation and hot air circulation, producing practically double the heat that is secured with ordinary coal stoves from the same amount of fuel.

By putting in coal once a day or two a steady fire from the time it is put up in the fall till taken down in the spring can be kept with but little attention and absolutely without smoke and gas escaping into the room.

You get this decidedly superior service, this demonstrable fuel economy, for the price of an ordinary stove. An examination will convince you.

Ohio Women To Use New Plan

294,420 men voted "Yes" on Woman Suffrage at the special election in this state September 3rd; 336,375 men voted "No." The total vote cast was 586,295, the adverse majority being 87,455.

But mark these facts:—(1) that woman suffrage received the largest vote of any of the forty-two proposed amendments; (2) more men voted for woman suffrage at this election than have ever before voted on the question, pro and con, in any other state in which the question has been submitted to a vote.

Let our enemies take such comfort as they may from these facts.

If the suffragists of Ohio had had six months instead of three in which to campaign, they would have carried the woman suffrage amendment, beyond the shadow of a doubt.

On September 30th, a conference of woman suffragists will be held in Cleveland, to decide upon the next steps in the new campaign. That they will initiate a petition under the new Initiative and Referendum law is a foregone conclusion. The kind of organization to be recommended to the workers in the various counties and the length of time to be devoted to the campaign are the principal matters which will be discussed at this conference, which will be presided over by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren.

DAD GANDEBONE'S FORECAST FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER

OCTOBER.

A scene in Armageddon,
A warrior in tin,
And every now and then a shout
Emerging from the din.
Some folks fancy Woodrow,
And others fancy Bill,
And others still for Theodore
Are very hopeful still.

A table and a pitcher,
A speaker on the perch,
And here and there someone asleep,
The same as in a church.
The miracle of party,
And the perfidy of doubt,
With the usual statistics
Till the watchman puts them out.

A woman with a banner,
Another with a drum,
And another with a curtain pole
Revolving on her thumb.
Some folks say its nothing,
But others think it is,
And like as not it won't be long
Till man is getting his.

The bull moose and the donkey,
The elephant, the zoo,
The trusts against the people,
And the false against the true;
But do not get excited,
Or take it very hard,
For they'll all lie down together
In the same backyard.

October was originally the eighth

month of the Romans, but it brought watermelons and pumpkins in at the same time, and Numa Pompilius, who liked both, pushed it along to tenth place to keep from fondering himself. A Bull Moose party formed to dethrone him, but he held on, and was able in the end to pull the skulls of his enemies around on a string on Hallowe'en with a candle inside, from which we have our present-day Jack-o'-Lantern.

The zodiacal sign for October is Scorpio, meaning the Scorpion. It typifies the manner in which candidates sting one another in the last few weeks of the campaign. October has always been the favorite month of the year. That more people have always married in June has only been explained upon the theory that inasmuch as they are undertaking the battle of life together they probably consider that it would be just as well to begin at once upon the mosquitoes.

The gentle spirit of the Fall
Will come to glorify the air,
And the football player will appall
The population with his hair.
The referee will climb the poles
And sound his shrill official toot,
And the moth will drill a few more holes
In everybody's winter suit.

There is no glory to compare with that awaiting just ahead, when the gossamer gets in the air, and the sasafraz is flaming red: A million harps have duly twanged upon the glories of the time, but a poet still were rather hanged that not intone his little rhyme.

You may destroy his throbbing lyre and pitch him headlong in the sea, but death alone can quench the fire that underlies his melody. He'll string horse hair on a pole, and even stronger than before uplift the passion of his soul with getting back upon the shore.

At such a time, though you may laugh,
It would as probably avail
To catch the acrobatic calf
And tie a brick upon his tail.
One whiff of Autumn in his nose,
And lowering his playful head,
His rear appendage still uprose,
Though weighted with a keg of lead.

You can't retain the joy of Fall that palpitates in living things, nor hope to dissipate the thrall in which a poetaster sings. The calf will kick and buck around, the colt will cut a few high jinks, and the poet's zither will resound, despite what anybody thinks.

The better quality of air
Will speed the presidential race,
And a cocklebur placed here and there
Will help accelerate the place.

The troubled earth will gently sway
Beneath the violent attack,
And the trusts will hustle corn and hay
Along the fence inside the track.

The eager riders, all inclined at lease resistance to the air, will lash their quadrupeds behind, and feel them lagging in despair. The hungry brutes will smell the hay, and catch the fragrance of the corn, and in their torture curse the day that saw the first reformer born. Ill rues the time when plenty shows a helping hand on every side, and still nobody ever throws a bite for being villified. It never was that way before in any other race they ran, and many a good and lusty roar will sound the perfidy of man.

But that's the kind of race it is, say any creature what he will, and each man's chance is only his with somehow keeping at it still. A strictly uncorrupted trot, with empty stomachs all around, is what they entered, and they've got to make their chargers cover ground. If Rockefeller and his set desire a little sporting bout, why let them wait a bit to get their trust-fed steeple-chasers out. We're having one—perhaps the first we ever had, and while it toils, we'll take a care to hold a gun upon the pirate and his spoils.

The Hunter's Moon will sail the sky
To ecstaticize the human race,
And men will trail the pumpkin pie
Through many a city eating place.
The elder sign will grace the store,
To offer men its ancient boon,
And customers will bulge the door
With getting it out of the saloon.

The twelfth of the month will be the 420th anniversary of the discovery of America, and Messrs Rockefeller, Morgan and Carnegie will give a dinner on that date to Christopher Columbus, who found it for them. The 27th will be the anniversary of the landing in this country of the man who put the Penn in Pennsylvania, and it will be celebrated in an appropriate manner by everyone who has put the important syllable in anything since. The moon will be full on the 25th, and the password for the month will be applebutter.

And then November will renew, with somewhat cooler weather, and the poor consumer sewing two thin union suits together.

No Wonder Suggs Was Sore.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The Reds won the first game of the double-header with the Cubs, 10 to 3, and the second was called in the tenth with the score a tie, 4 and 4. Darkness made it impossible for the second game to be finished. Pitcher Suggs was a sore man after the contest. He was promised a bonus of $500 if he won 20 games, and a win against the Cubs would have made his twentieth.

Infant Drowns in Can of Water.

Newark, O., Sept. 28.—Elizabeth Tyrrell, 15 months, daughter of Thomas M. Tyrrell, fell into a lard can filled with water and was drowned. The mother was sewing on a dress for the little one when the accident occurred. She is prostrated with grief and is in a serious condition.

Dog Causes Damage Suit.

Dayton, O., Sept. 28.—Damages in the sum of $25,000, on account of an attack upon his 8-year-old son by a St. Bernard dog belonging to J. D. Moskowicz, are sought in an action brought in the common pleas court by Daniel Prentz.

Man Scalded to Death.

Ravenna, O., Sept. 28.—Peter Z. Hamilton, 35, died in a hospital here from scalds received when he fell into a six-foot vat of boiling water at the plant of the S. Awer Basket company, where he was employed.

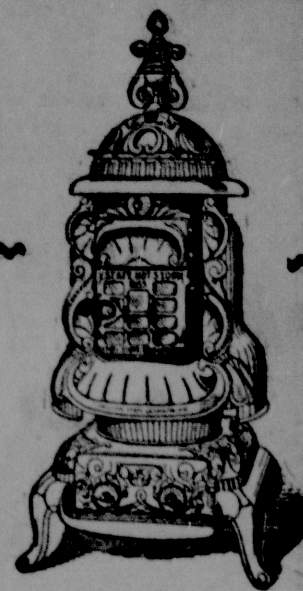

Indianapolis Won.

Washington, Sept. 28.—By a vote of 198 to 196, Indianapolis was chosen over San Francisco for the 1914 convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Fifty ballots were necessary.

Died Trying to Save Kitten.

Dillonvale, O., Sept. 28.—Anna, 6, daughter of John Possell, died in a hospital of injuries received when she attempted to save her pet kitten from being run down by a train. Both the little girl's legs were cut off at the hips.

YOUR COAL PROBLEM SOLVED

No need to worry about your winter's coal bill if you use the

ESTATE HOT STORM

It burns any grade of soft coal in a highly successful manner, through the use of the Estate Hot Blast and Hot Air Circulating Systems, the greatest improvements ever made in a soft coal stove.

It heats by both radiation and hot air circulation, producing practically double the heat that is secured with ordinary coal stoves from the same amount of fuel.

By putting in coal once a day or two a steady fire from the time it is put up in the fall till taken down in the spring can be kept with but little attention and absolutely without smoke and gas escaping into the room.

You get this decidedly superior service, this demonstrable fuel economy, for the price of an ordinary stove. An examination will convince you.

Ohio Women To Use New Plan

294,420 men voted "Yes" on Woman Suffrage at the special election in this state September 3rd; 336,375 men voted "No." The total vote cast was 586,295, the adverse majority being 87,455.

But mark these facts:—(1) that woman suffrage received the largest vote of any of the forty-two proposed amendments; (2) more men voted for woman suffrage at this election than have ever before voted on the question, pro and con, in any other state in which the question has been submitted to a vote.

Let our enemies take such comfort as they may from these facts.

If the suffragists of Ohio had had six months instead of three in which to campaign, they would have carried the woman suffrage amendment, beyond the shadow of a doubt.

On September 30th, a conference of woman suffragists will be held in Cleveland, to decide upon the next steps in the new campaign. That they will initiate a petition under the new Initiative and Referendum law is a foregone conclusion. The kind of organization to be recommended to the workers in the various counties and the length of time to be devoted to the campaign are the principal matters which will be discussed at this conference, which will be presided over by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren.

ELKS ARE NEGOTIATING FOR SPLENDID QUARTERS IN THE NEW HUNT BLOCK

NEW HOME WILL CONTAIN 6,000 FEET OF FLOOR SPACE

Antlered Herd Greatly Pleased Over Prospects for Elegant Home to Take Place of the One Destroyed in the Big Fire. Lodge Now Contains 175 Members.

Within the next few days it is believed that negotiations will be closed whereby Washington Lodge No. 129, B. P. O. Elks, will eventually have an elegant home on the second floor of the new block under course of construction by Mr. R. C. Hunt, and the power to close the deal has been vested in the lodge board of trustees, Messrs. M. S. Daugherty, M. J. Hagerty and Carl S. Mallow.

Ever since the Elks lost their splendid home in the Masonic Temple by the memorable fire of December 30, they have been awaiting an opportunity to secure a new home that would be desirable, and that home now appears to be on the verge of materializing into a reality.

Sometime ago negotiations were opened with Mr. Hunt in an endeavor to secure quarters in his new block, and plans and specifications were gotten out accordingly, and submitted to the Elks, who were greatly pleased with them, and promptly vested power in the trustees to close the deal.

The plans call for the entire second floor of the building between the Dahl-Millikan structure and the new fire-proof hotel which will be erected on the site of the Imperial, next spring. The block will also be fire-proof. Entrance to the second floor will be gained by an easy flight of stairs located between the business block and hotel, and the space to be occupied as a home will be 38 feet in width and 165 feet in depth.

At the head of the stairway entrance will be made into the reception hall, which will be some 18 by 24 feet. It will be the second room from the front of the building, and folding doors will connect it with the front room, which is to be 18 by 38 feet, and will be a game and smoking room. A property room and gents' toilet room will be located on the north side of the reception hall, with entrances from the reception hall and smoking room.

The lodge parlors will be located immediately west of the reception hall, also being connected by folding doors. The lodge room will be 18 by 32 feet, a six-foot air and light shaft occupying space along the north side next to the Dahl-Millikan building.

A fourteen foot corridor, with a kitchen on the south side and ladies dressing room on the north side, will connect the lodge parlor with the big ball room and dining hall, which will be 38 by 80 feet, with a well equipped stage on the west side, a large court will separate the back part of the building from the hotel, so that proper ventilation will be furnished.

The total floor space will be about 6,000 square feet, and from front to rear the splendid quarters will be elegantly furnished, so that it will be an ideal home for the antlered order, which is composed of about 175 members.

The new quarters will probably not be ready for occupancy for several months, although work will be pushed rapidly. The walls are already well under way, and most of the first floor has been laid.

Martin C. Brings A Cool $5,000

Martin C., the fast unhoppled Greene county pacer, owned by James Shane and his son, Joseph Shane, of the Cincinnati pike, was sold Monday for the handsome sum of $5,000 to Frank Perrin, a Cincinnati millionaire, and William Mooney, a wealthy banker of Woodfield, O. The former is a relative of Cliff Tod, the well known race driver who has been campaigning the horse this season. It is the highest price that has been paid for a Greene county horse since Steve Phillips, sr., sold Blind Tom for the sum of $6,000. While the price is large, it is possible that the Shanes could have secured a still larger amount had they waited a short time, as Mr. Whitney, of the Whitney Stock Farm, of Muncie, Ind., was in Xenia Tuesday morning for the purpose of making an offer on the animal. When he learned through Mayor Dodds that the horse had been sold Monday for $5,000, Mr. Whitney intimated that he would be willing to pay the new owners well for their bargain.

Martin C has a mark of 2:14 1-4, but can pace much faster. At Fort Wayne two weeks ago he worked a trial mile in 2:06 1-2, the last half in 30 seconds. He is a grand circuit prospect for next year which several wealthy horsemen have been trying to buy. He is sired by the Greene county horse, Go-A-Head, owned by Samuel Harner. The Shanes bought him last year from Martin Cooney, of Cedarville.—Xenia Gazette.

Of Interest To Teachers

The following letter, which is of particular interest to Fayette county school teachers, has just been received by County Auditor Henkle, and is self-explanatory:

Sept. 24, 1912.

To the County Auditors of the State of Ohio:

The School Commissioner of Ohio began a year ago to plan an Elementary Course of Study for the teachers of Ohio. It was necessary to find teachers that were experts in their work to write upon the subject assigned them. This work was assigned about the first of January, 1912, and the manuscripts were returned to the office of the School Commissioner about June 15th. We expected to distribute these Courses of Study to the teachers of the various counties at their regular County Institutes, but the Manuals did not come from the press until about Sept. 15th. It became necessary to find some other plan of distribution and the teachers have been instructed to call at the County Auditors and receive their copies of this Course of Study. We have sent to you seventy two copies of this Course of Study, which will perhaps supply the demand in your county. If a teacher should desire a large number of these Manuals, he should request this office to send them direct to his address. If the supply does not meet the demand at the County Auditor's office, at the request of the Auditor, we will be pleased to send as many copies of this Manual as the Auditors desire. On account of the condition of our contingent fund, it became necessary for us to send this package of Manuals collect.

Hoping that you will assist me in this distribution, I am,

Very truly yours,

FRANK W. MILLER,

State Commissioner of Common Schools.

Local Attorney Saves His Bacon

George Bacon of Leesburg, was granted a divorce in the Ross county Common Pleas court Friday afternoon from his wife, Lucy Bacon, who now resides on South High street in that city. Attorney H. H. Sanderson representing Bacon.

The divorce petition had originally been filed by Mrs. Bacon, but her attorney did not appear, so the case was heard on the cross-petition filed by her husband. Bacon produced some very strong evidence from neighbors of his wife, which involved her with a well-known young man of Chillicothe, and it was evident that there had been some startling sights.

The couple were married in 1908 and separated one year later.

DECISION HANDED DOWN IN FAMOUS CHURCH CASE

Judge Goldsberry Settles Squabble Between Two Factions in Ross County Church, Giving the Defendants Benefit of Decision Because They Own Property.

A decision in the Twin township church case, which has been in litigation for some time past, was handed down by Judge Goldsberry Thursday morning. The case has been under advisement since the 18th of the month, when counsel for both factions submitted their final arguments. The contest was waged over possession of the McKibben Christian Union church in that township, the plaintiff being the new faction of the church membership, who wanted to secure entire control and also wished to change the name from Christian Union to Church of Christ in Christian Union.

In the decision Judge Goldsberry went over the evidence, from the formation of the church organization down to the present, explaining that the decision rested not so much on the name by which the church should be known, as who comprised or represented the body to which the original deed for the property was made. From reports submitted, the judge stated a state council composed of the elders of each church had been formed in 1909 and registered as a corporate body for the purpose of legally receiving gifts, holding property, etc. This state council in March of that year had framed a constitution governing the actions of that body, but to which certain members refused to sign and withdrew. Furthermore, witnesses for the plaintiff confessed on the stand that their faction had withdrawn from the church and therefore, concluded the judge, through the court had on right to say how any religious set believed their worship should be conducted or what name they wished to give their particular church, the court did consider the fact that if part of the church membership withdrew they could not take the property with them. That the property still was retained by the corporate body of the church and no matter if the majority of the members of the specific church in question were withdrawn, the property could not be legally given over to them.

Since the decision favors the defendants, the plaintiff must cover the costs of the case. Attorneys for the plaintiff announced the case would probably be carried to the Circuit court for adjustment.

John Eyer, of Waverly, is attorney for the plaintiff, and H. B. Morrow of Hillsboro and F. P. Hinton of this city represent the defense.—Scioto Gazette.

RELIGIOUS PROGRAM OUTLINED.

The general work of the Young Men's Christian Association is getting well under way. The gymnasium classes have all started off with a splendid enrollment. The night school classes will begin work on October 14th, and judging from present inquiries a goodly number will be enrolled.

The Religious Work Committee met on Tuesday night and outlined the religious program for the winter.

There are to be a number of different Bible classes started. Two classes using the course, "What Manner of Man Is This?" Two classes in the study of "The Life of Christ", one in "Life Problems", and one in "Biblical Facts and History."

Dr. Henness, noted traveler and lecturer, who recently moved to this city, has been secured to teach the Brotherhood class in the last named course.

General Secretary Zander will take the Young men's class in "Life Problems"; Ralph Strobel and J. W. McClung will each teach a class of Juniors.

Vesper services will be held in the lobby ever Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the last Sunday of each month, a large mass meeting will be held in the gymnasium.

All the religious work as outlined begins the first week of October.

THE HOUSE CLEANING JOKE.

Thousands of jokes are written each year on housecleaning by men who do not realize what a small tragedy house-cleaning is to women. It has to be done, and it has to be done thoroughly. House-cleaning is fun, though, if Easy Task soap is used. Made of pure coconut oil, borax, naphtha and clean, sweet tallow, it can be used on woodwork, floors, curtains, rugs, laces, china, cut glass and everything else—rids them of dirt and dust in half the time of cheap yellow soaps.

Henry Watterson III, New York, Sept. 28.—Colonel Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has been seriously ill in New York for the past week. His recovery is now fully assured, it is thought by his physicians and friends, and on Monday it is expected that he will be able to return to Louisville.

Mona Lisa in Russia? London, Sept. 28.—Leonardo Da Vinci's masterpiece, Mona Lisa, stolen from the Louvre museum at Paris in August of last year, is hanging on the walls of a private gallery in St. Petersburg, according to a report published in a Russian paper and transmitted to a news agency here.

Many Thousands Perished. Tokyo, Sept. 28.—Thousands of troops were sent to districts where storm damage was heaviest to aid the sufferers. It is now believed many thousands perished. Whole towns are in ruins.

F. L. Stutson Buys a 1913 Model Chalmers

The P. F. Ortman Motor Car Co. of East street, has just sold one of the 1913 six-cylinder Chalmers to Mr. F. L. Stutson, which disposes of ready of more than half of the Chalmers 1913 allotment of this local automobile firm.

The Ortman Company attribute the wonderful sale of the Chalmers 1913 model to the universal public recognition of the many points of superiority over all.

The latest Chalmers car in addition to being mechanically perfect and beautiful in the extreme, is finished elegantly, provided with all conveniences in easy reach. The upholstery is superb, including 11-inch Turkish cushions. These cars are fitted with air starters, which have been found to be far superior to both electric and gas starters.

Salesmen Wanted

We want men—salesmen (preferably those with road experience, although this is not absolutely essential). The increased demand for our product has exceeded our expectations and we are in position to use a number of real live salesmen. The field for our product covers almost every line of industry—store, factory, garage, railroad, etc. It is favorably known everywhere, having been widely advertised and successfully sold since 1885.

While we prefer men who have made a success in sales work, we have found that clerks and men of other lines have made remarkable records for themselves. No technical knowledge required.

This is your opportunity to secure a good territory, backed by the heartiest co-operation of a House of Honor, and practically start in business for yourself, fully equipped. The financial results are commensurate with the effort put forth. At any rate, write for our book, giving details, and then decide. Address, S. B. Bechtel, Assistant General Manager, S. F. A decision in the Twin township church case, which has been in litigation for some time past, was handed down by Judge Goldsberry Thursday morning. The case has been under advisement since the 18th of the month, when counsel for both factions submitted their final arguments. The contest was waged over possession of the McKibben Christian Union church in that township, the plaintiff being the new faction of the church membership, who wanted to secure entire control and also wished to change the name from Christian Union to Church of Christ in Christian Union.

In the decision Judge Goldsberry went over the evidence, from the formation of the church organization down to the present, explaining that the decision rested not so much on the name by which the church should be known, as who comprised or represented the body to which the original deed for the property was made. From reports submitted, the judge stated a state council composed of the elders of each church had been formed in 1909 and registered as a corporate body for the purpose of legally receiving gifts, holding property, etc. This state council in March of that year had framed a constitution governing the actions of that body, but to which certain members refused to sign and withdrew. Furthermore, witnesses for the plaintiff confessed on the stand that their faction had withdrawn from the church and therefore, concluded the judge, through the court had on right to say how any religious set believed their worship should be conducted or what name they wished to give their particular church, the court did consider the fact that if part of the church membership withdrew they could not take the property with them. That the property still was retained by the corporate body of the church and no matter if the majority of the members of the specific church in question were withdrawn, the property could not be legally given over to them.

Since the decision favors the defendants, the plaintiff must cover the costs of the case. Attorneys for the plaintiff announced the case would probably be carried to the Circuit court for adjustment.

John Eyer, of Waverly, is attorney for the plaintiff, and H. B. Morrow of Hillsboro and F. P. Hinton of this city represent the defense. —Scioto Gazette.

RELIGIOUS PROGRAM OUTLINED.

The general work of the Young Men's Christian Association is getting well under way. The gymnasium classes have all started off with a splendid enrollment. The night school classes will begin work on October 14th, and judging from present inquiries a goodly number will be enrolled.

The Religious Work Committee met on Tuesday night and outlined the religious program for the winter.

There are to be a number of different Bible classes started. Two classes using the course, "What Manner of Man is This?" Two classes in the study of "The Life of Christ", one in "Life Problems", and one in "Biblical Facts and History."

Dr. Hennessy, noted traveler and lecturer, who recently moved to this city, has been secured to teach the Brotherhood class in the last named course.

General Secretary Zaner will take the Young men's class in "Life Problems"; Ralph Strobel and J. W. McClung will each teach a class of Juniors.

Vesper services will be held in the lobby every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the last Sunday of each month, a large mass meeting will be held in the gymnasium.

All the religious work as outlined begins the first week of October.

THE HOUSE CLEANING JOKE.

Thousands of jokes are written each year on housecleaning by men who do not realize what a small tragedy housecleaning is to women. It has to be done, and it has to be done thoroughly. Housecleaning is fun, though, if Easy Task soap is used. Made of pure coconut oil, borax, naphtha and clean, sweet tallow, it can be used on woodwork, floors, curtains, rugs, laces, china, cut glass and everything else—rids them of dirt and dust in half the time of cheap yellow soaps.

Henry Watterson III.

New York, Sept. 28.—Colonel Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has been seriously ill in New York for the past week. His recovery is now fully assured. It is thought by his physicians and friends, and on Monday it is expected that he will be able to return to Louisville.

Mona Lisa in Russia?

London, Sept. 28.—Leonardo Da Vinci's masterpiece, Mona Lisa, stolen from the Louvre museum at Paris in August of last year, is hanging on the walls of a private gallery in St. Petersburg, according to a report published in a Russian paper and transmitted to a news agency here.

Many Thousands Perished.

Tokyo, Sept. 28.—Thousands of troops were sent to districts where storm damage was heaviest to aid the sufferers. It is now believed many thousands perished. Whole towns are in ruins.

F. L. Stutson Buys 1913 Model Chalmers

The P. F. Ortman Motor Car Co. of East street, has just sold one of the 1913 six-cylinder Chalmers to Mr. F. L. Stutson, which disposes of ready of more than half of the Chalmers 1913 allotment of this local automobile firm.

The Ortman Company attributes the wonderful sale of the Chalmers 1913 model to the universal public recognition of the many points of superiority over all.

The latest Chalmers car in addition to being mechanically perfect and beautiful in the extreme, is finished elegantly, provided with all conveniences in easy reach. The upholstery is superb, including 11 inch Turkish cushions. These cars are fitted with air starters, which have been found to be far superior to both electric and gas starters.

Salesmen Wanted

We want men—salesmen (preferably those with road experience, although this is not absolutely essential). The increased demand for our product has exceeded our expectations and we are in position to use a number of real live salesmen. The field for our product covers almost every line of industry—store, factory, garage, railroad, etc. It is favorably known everywhere, having been widely advertised and successfully sold since 1885.

While we prefer men who have made a success in sales work, we have found that clerks and men of other lines have made remarkable records for themselves. No technical knowledge required.

This is your opportunity to secure a good territory, backed by the heartiest co-operation of a House of Honor, and practically start in business for yourself, fully equipped. The financial results are commensurate with the effort put forth. At any rate, write for our book, giving details, and then decide. Address, S. B. Bechtel, Assistant General Manager, S. F. IN SOCIETY

Miss Lucile Chapman delightfully entertained the girls of the "Merry Go Round" club yesterday afternoon, during a jolly afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

The girls present were Misses Helen Persinger, Emily Palmer, Martha Teeters, Marguerite Wilson, Charlotte Baker, Helen Hamm, Kathleen Forman, Nell Stuckey.

An exceedingly pretty party was given at the home of Mr. A. T. Vincent last night, Misses Essie Vincent and Carolyn Kingsbury entertaining for Miss Lou Patton, who weds Mr. Robert Schenck, of Dayton, in October.

The spacious home was embowered in greenery and golden rod, with great bunches of marigolds in jardinières, the autumn decorations rich and effective.

The hostesses had exercised much cleverness in providing for the evening's diversion. Singularly appropos was a contest, "A Flowery Romance," in which Miss Faith Warner won the prize, a beautiful cluster of snapdragons and fern. Another contest was devised using the letters of the names of bride and bridegroom to form articles used in housekeeping. Miss Grace Paul won the prize, a meat grinder. Both prizes were courteously presented to the bride-elect.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served in the dining room, Marigolds and asparagus fern embellished the table. Fruit punch was served throughout the evening.

Miss Vincent's young niece, Katharine Trovillo, of Roxabel, delighted the guests with several pretty songs. Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. Will Trovillo, of Roxabel; Mrs. A. T. Vincent, Miss Lydia Vincent.

Mrs. Frank L. Parrett entertained with an elaborate dinner at her beautiful home on the Prairie pike yesterday.

The guests included Mesdames W. H. Dial, Val McCoy, Os Briggs, Tom Vesey, S. A. Marshall, Rell G. Allen, Misses Ida Ware, Gertrude and Edith Gardner, Monta Parrett and Fannie Parrett.

Stealing a march on Washington friends, Mr. Roy Mallow, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Mallow, and Miss Leola Hyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hyer, were married Wednesday evening in Columbus.

Rev. Burns, of the M. E. church performed the ceremony at the parsonage.

The bride had been visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. C. Wilson, on Oak St., and was accompanied to the parsonage by several of her friends. She was married in a tailored suit of dark blue with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallow came down from Columbus on the evening train last night and went at once to the home of the bride's parents. Their future plans are not yet decided.

The bridegroom is a well known young farmer and club man and has been actively identified with many Washington interests. Both he and his charming bride have the best wishes of friends galore.

Mrs. W. J. Burnett was hostess last Friday afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McCoy, Mrs. J. Briggs and Mrs. A. Melvin, of Washington C. H., Ohio. The rooms were pretty with purple and white asters, sweet peas and pansies. During the afternoon the sixteen ladies who made up the guest list, spent the time with needlework. A tempting luncheon was served at a convenient hour. The guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. McCoy a pleasant journey and congratulating their hostess as being a splendid entertainer. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy left the same evening for a visit in Illinois before returning to their home in Ohio.—The Banner, Hillsboro, N. D.

Mrs. Clara Junkerman came over from Circleville this evening to spend Sunday at the home of Mr. Lafayette Eggleston. Miss Katharine Eggleston Junkerman has gone on to Cleveland for a short visit, her mother joining her next week, when they return to New York.

Fred Hillery, who is now manager of the football, base and basketball teams of St. Mary's college, will be home this evening to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hillery, of N. Fayette St.

Edgar VanKirk and Hugh Hildebrandt left this morning for Ann Arbor, Mich., to resume their studies in the Forestry and Medical departments respectively of the University of Michigan.

Committee Will Meet Bull Moose

At a meeting of a number of Republican candidates held Friday evening, the question of accepting Bull Moose indorsement was discussed at some length, and it was eventually decided that a committee should meet the Bull Moose tonight.

Just what this committee was empowered to do, was not given out, but it is understood that before the candidates will see a new county ticket placed in the field, that they will agree to accept indorsement, providing the indorsement is proffered.

The letter recently addressed to each of the Republican candidates on the county ticket did not state whether the candidates would be indorsed if they agreed to accept indorsement, and the candidates wish to observe Davy Crockett's advice of "Be sure you're right, then go ahead."

Hon. C. A. Reid and S. C. Phillips are said to compose the committee who will carry the white flag.

Making Repairs On Sidewalk

After a number of unsuccessful attempts to secure repairs on the makeshift sidewalk in front of the Williams block on East Court street, the last attempt is now bearing fruit, and some colored men have been employed to make the improvement.

A number of the sawed stones have been broken and are worthless, but all stone in a fair condition is being utilized, after which the remaining space is to be filled in with cement sidewalks.

For several years the sidewalk has been in anything but proper condition and the long suffering public is very grateful for the repairs now under way.

Wills Pays And Leaves the City

J. K. Wills' friends came to his assistance and paid his way to freedom Saturday morning and the man left the city on the next train, evidently glad to escape as lightly as he did.

Wills is the man who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of beating his livery bills while employed by the Batchelder Supply company of Columbus.

FOLLOWS HER LOVER AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Mattie Delong, of This City, Is Found on Dayton Streets With Handkerchief Knotted About Her Neck, and Says Suicidal Attempt Was Made Because She Could Not Find Lover.

Mattie Delong, aged 18 years, the daughter of Martin Delong, who moved to this city from Circleville some two weeks ago, was found on the streets of Dayton Thursday night, having attempted suicide by suffocating herself.

The girl was in an unconscious condition and had two handkerchiefs tightly knotted about her throat, and would soon have been dead. She was hurried to the Miami Valley hospital where she was revived and then told a sensational tale of how she had been attacked and knocked down by a strange man.

She later admitted that she had tried to end her life, and that it was due to becoming despondent because she could not find her lover, whom she said she had followed to Dayton from this city, but who the lover was she did not say.

The girl was released from the hospital and it is supposed that she returned to this city.

WHAT WE NEVER FORGET according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or cold-sores. Only 25 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Death Summons James Green

James Green, aged 63 years, one of the best known farmers of Paint township, died Friday afternoon at his residence one mile northwest of Yatesville, after suffering for three weeks from the effects of a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Green was a son of the late Hamilton Green, and had spent his life in the community in which he died, holding the respect of everyone with whom he was associated. Besides other relatives he leaves a devoted wife and a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, after which the remains will be interred in the Sedalia cemetery. Undertaker E. A. Klever, of this city has charge of the funeral arrangements.

Annual Reunion The 114th O. V. I.

The local surviving members of Company C and Company D of the 114th O. V. I. are just home from the 50th annual reunion of the regiment which was this year held at Circleville. Those who attended from this county were Nathaniel Tway, Horace E. Lydy, John A. Paul, Henry L. Robinson, B. H. Millikan, Wm. Zimmerman, James A. McLean, James Robinson, of Company C and John Heitman, of Company D. Both companies enlisted from this county, Company C leaving under command of Captain Hains and returning under Captain Allen Hegler.

At the reunion this year those attending were guests of Captain E. L. Hawk, formerly of McArthur, but now of Sacramento, Cal.

The reunion was held about three miles east of Circleville and forty automobiles took the veterans from Circleville to camp where tents were provided. Captain Hawk bore all expenses and entertained the veterans in grand style.

In addition to the ninety-four veterans in attendance, there were many of the men who brought along the good wife to share the hospitality of Captain Hawk.

Many children of veterans also attended including F. M. Kennedy, of this city, whose father lost his life in the service.

Handsome souvenirbadges were presented to each guest and proud indeed are the holders of these bronze mementoes of the happy occasion.

WOMAN CAUGHT RED HANDED.

A woman was caught red handed last Tuesday. There was nothing sensational about it. All she had done was to do her washing with cheap, common yellow laundry soap, and the result was, as it always is, that her hands were cracked and chapped and chafed until they were sights. Easy Task soap relieves a woman of so much rubbing and dipping the hands in the water that no harm results. As a matter of fact, Easy Task soap is good to wash the hands with. It won't hurt the most delicate skin any more than the finest lace.

Of the 12,000 operatives who quit work probably one-half did so as a protest against the trial of Etor and Giovanni. The others were forced out either because of intimidation or as a result of the closing of their departments.

Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World renewed their assertion that the strike was not sanctioned, was unorganized and without a leader. Secretary Yates announced that William Heywood, who directed the strike here last winter in its latter stages and who on Boston Common two weeks ago urged a country-wide strike in protest against the detention in jail of Etor and Giovanni, will arrive in Lawrence Sunday or Monday.

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 28.—Despite reports to the contrary in circulation in the United States, no attack was made on the American legation here by a mob which was demonstrating in sympathy with Etor and Giovanni. The leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, who are under arrest in Massachusetts. The arrest of these men was made the occasion of a demonstration Wednesday by a few hundred local Italians who, in passing the American and Italian legations, hooted several times.

HERE'S THE LATEST, THE SEASICK STEP.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 28.—The members of the late-staying summer colony were introduced to a new dance step at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hatch of New York. It is called the "seasick step" and was executed by Urie Davis of Washington, who earlier in the season introduced the "horse trot." The new dance is a slow one and is nothing more than a combination of dips.

Bainbridge People In Another Sensation

has been arrested for the same offense. Wells Jones is a well known merchant and farmer of Bainbridge and owns quite a little property in that vicinity. There has been considerable talk about the couple of late years, and rumors that Jones was not faithful to his family have been current for some time. Although suspicions were strong, nothing of real definite value was secured until Wednesday evening, when the couple were found as detailed.

Mrs. Jones, some weeks ago in Common Pleas court of this county, filed a suit for divorce, alleging statutory grounds therefor, and also filed a suit against the woman in the case for alienation of her husband's affections. Neither case has as yet been heard.

The woman in the case has had considerable unpleasant notoriety. She has been twice married before, and Bainbridge residents say has been the cause of separation in the family of a former husband. Mr. Jones' family are well respected, and his wife and three sons have the sympathy of the community.

WHEN COMPANY COMES.

If there's one thing above all others that makes a woman feel desperate it is to have company drop in unexpectedly to spend the day, and to know that her table cloth is yellow from the last washing, and the napkins worn in holes and dingy looking. If she had used Easy Task laundry soap her table linen would have been spotlessly white and she would be proud of it. Easy Task soap is the enemy of dirt and the friend of fabrics of all kinds. Try it next Monday and you'll rename wash-day to Easy Task day.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Where Caddies are Girls

One of the pleasing features of the golf links in Germany is the girl caddie. She is picturesquely dressed, attentive to her duties and generally more intelligent than the boys usually employed in other lands. The custom of having girls for caddies is now spreading in France and Great Britain. Our illustration shows a group of caddies on the Thuringen golf links in Saxony.

A COLLEGE GIRL OF EIGHTY ONE LUNATIC TO EVERY 269

Mrs. A. D. Winship of the University of Wisconsin, in Madison, is no doubt the oldest "college girl" in America, if not in the world. She became a student at the University of Ohio when she was seventy-eight years old, and is now eighty. She expects to receive her diploma from Wisconsin in two years more. Her interest in the world and in life in general is as great as that of a woman with the greatest part of life ahead of her.

The number of lunatics in England and Wales on January 1 last showed an increase of 2,504 over the total a year before, according to recently issued reports of the commissioners in lunacy.

The total number of certified insane under care on January 1 was 135,661. The increase of 2,504 compares with an increase of 2,604 for 1910, with 1,766 for 1909 and with 2,703 for 1908.

Last January the insane were reckoned at one to every 269 of the population; in 1902 the proportion was one to 298.

On the question of distribution the report shows 46.5 per cent. of insane are male and 53.5 per cent. females. In the population there are 48 males to 52 females in every 100 persons.

In cases of hereditary insanity the proportion of the females is 59 per cent., which bears out a fact noted by Dr. Mott, of the London county asylum, that in the offspring of insane parents daughters are much more numerous than sons. In cases with a family history of alcoholism the female proportion is 53. Sudden mental stress accounts for 65 female insane, compared with 35 males; in prolonged stress women also predominate, but in alcoholic intemperance the male cases are twice as numerous as the female—68 against 32.

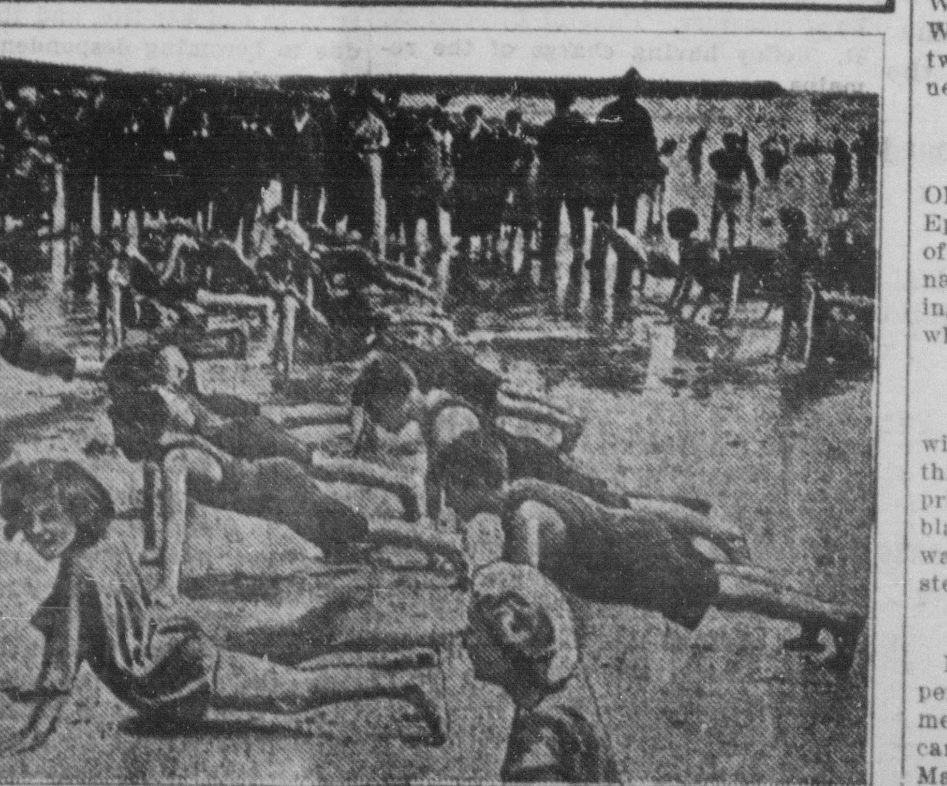

CELLAR TRAP FOR TRAMPS

Mrs. Leroy Parton, wife of a homesteader living nine miles east of Koto, Cal., devised a unique system of keeping tramps away from the place when she entrapped one of them in her cellar and gave him such a fright that he promised to leave and never visit that part of the country again. The cellar, a large hole in the ground some distance from the house, is frequented by snakes. It has not been used for some time. When the tramp appeared and begged for food she told him that he could have a meal if he would get milk from the cellar. When he was inside the woman slammed down the door and sat on it. After the man had gone Mrs. Parton shot two rattlers in the cellar.

WEARS IRON FALSE TEETH

S. P. Munday of Fort Worth, Tex., prides himself as being the only man living with cast-iron teeth. He wears a set of upper teeth made of iron, cast by a metal company in Fort Worth. They weigh 4 1/2 ounces. He says they are as satisfactory as ordinary false teeth and demonstrated their solidity by sounding the metal on a piece of steel. The plate and teeth are in one solid cast.

Physical Culture on Beach

During the summer months at Hastings, England, classes in physical culture are maintained on the beach, attracting much interest and arousing the admiration of visitors. The pupils are all children, and they are put through their exercises dressed in bathing suits.

OHIO HAPPENINGS MARKETS

Promised Diamond Ring.
Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—A promised diamond ring was the bait which lured Teresa Dial, 14, a Cleveland girl, to Columbus with Mrs. Minnie Ames, who is charged in juvenile court with procuring Teresa and contributing to her delinquency. This was the testimony of the girl in court when she was asked why she came down here with Mrs. Ames. Judge Black reserved decision.

Girl Sane; Bound Over.
Steubenville, O., Sept. 28.—Lottie Ward, 19, domestic in the family of Samuel Palmer, arrested for firing his house, barn and other buildings and writing threatening letters to him, was declared sane. She was bound over to the grand jury for arson under $1,000 bond after reiterating her story that she was forced to the acts by two men whom she did not know but described.

Damaged by Fire.
Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—Fire, which was discovered in the 4-story brick building owned by the Union Cigar company of New York at 338 West Broad street, greatly damaged the rear of the building and ruined much of the stock of the Scioto Box company, which occupies the first and second floors and the basement.

Aged Woman Run Down.
Cleveland, O., Sept. 28.—An 80-year-old woman, believed to be a Mrs. James, was probably fatally injured when run down by an automobile driven by Gardner Abbot, health board member, who has offices in the Schofield building. She was waiting for a car when the accident occurred.

Youthful Burglar Pleads Guilty.
Youngstown, O., Sept. 28.—After he had been arrested here charged with having held up two stores in Youngstown, Mike Foley, 19, who was taken to Girard on charges of wholesale burglaries there, pleaded guilty and was bound over to the common pleas court of Trumbull county.

Offer Reward For Murderer.
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 28.—The commissioners of Hamilton county offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the person who shot and killed George Waugaman, a railroad man, at Clare. Waugaman was killed when he and two companions were held up by two negroes.

M. E. Conferences to Unite.
Kenton, O., Sept. 28.—The central Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church decided, by a vote of 145 to 15, to unite with the Cincinnati conference of the church, forming one conference, the name of which will be decided later.

Coal Goes Up.
Alliance, O., Sept. 28.—Coincident with the heavy frost which visited this vicinity coal dealers raised the price of fuel 10 to 20 cents a ton, blaming the increase to advanced wages demanded and paid to teamsters.

Policeman Wants Mayor's Job.
Lima, O., Sept. 28.—After being suspended from the city police department, Sergeant John Sutherland became a candidate for mayor, opposing Mayor Corbin N. Shoot. Sutherland will run on a liberal independent ticket.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CAT AND TURTLE ARE CHUMS

Turtle Dove is the name of the family pet in the home of Mrs. Catherine Dillon, 13 Bleeker street, New York city. It is a mud turtle, which has been in the family 65 years, and is said to be 180 years old. Wrinkled skin, broken shell and twisted claws are the indications of old age with Turtle Dove. The turtle and the Dillon's cats are bosom friends, and night finds them under the stove, with the turtle's head on the cat's paws and thus they peacefully sleep.

Physical Culture on Beach

During the summer months at Hastings, England, classes in physical culture are maintained on the beach, attracting much interest and arousing the admiration of visitors. The pupils are all children, and they are put through their exercises dressed in bathing suits.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Promised Diamond Ring.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—A promised diamond ring was the bait which lured Teresa Dial, 14, a Cleveland girl, to Columbus with Mrs. Minnie Ames, who is charged in juvenile court with procuring Teresa and contributing to her delinquency. This was the testimony of the girl in court when she was asked why she came down here with Mrs. Ames. Judge Black reserved decision.

Girl Sane; Bound Over.

Steubenville, O., Sept. 28.—Lottie Ward, 19, domestic in the family of Samuel Palmer, arrested for firing his house, barn and other buildings and writing threatening letters to him, was declared sane. She was bound over to the grand jury for arson under $1,000 bond after reiterating her story that she was forced to the acts by two men whom she did not know but described.

Damaged by Fire.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—Fire, which was discovered in the 4-story brick building owned by the Union Cigar company of New York at 338 West Broad street, greatly damaged the rear of the building and ruined much of the stock of the Scioto Box company, which occupies the first and second floors and the basement.

Aged Woman Run Down.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 28.—An 80-year-old woman, believed to be a Mrs. James, was probably fatally injured when run down by an automobile driven by Gardner Abbot, health board member, who has offices in the Schofield building. She was waiting for a car when the accident occurred.

Youthful Burglar Pleads Guilty.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 28.—After he had been arrested here charged with having held up two stores in Youngstown, Mike Foley, 19, who was taken to Girard on charges of wholesale burglaries there, pleaded guilty and was bound over to the common pleas court of Trumbull county.

Offer Reward For Murderer.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 28.—The commissioners of Hamilton county offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the person who shot and killed George Waugaman, a railroad man, at Clare. Waugaman was killed when he and two companions were held up by two negroes.

M. E. Conferences to Unite.

Kenton, O., Sept. 28.—The central Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church decided, by a vote of 145 to 15, to unite with the Cincinnati conference of the church, forming one conference, the name of which will be decided later.

Coal Goes Up.

Alliance, O., Sept. 28.—Coincident with the heavy frost which visited this vicinity coal dealers raised the price of fuel 10 to 20 cents a ton, blaming the increase to advanced wages demanded and paid to teamsters.

Policeman Wants Mayor's Job.

Lima, O., Sept. 28.—After being suspended from the city police department, Sergeant John Sutherland became a candidate for mayor, opposing Mayor Corbin N. Shott. Sutherland will run on a liberal independent ticket.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PRAISE FOR BASEBALL

University of Nebraska Pedagogue Lauds National Game.

Professional Diamond Pastime Only One That Appeals to Prof. George Howard—"Rooting" is Mental Perversion.

Professional baseball carries off the palm as king of sports, a chief agent of American democracy, and a moral uplifter, according to the decision stated by Prof. George Elliot Howard, the University of Nebraska authority, in an article in the American Journal of Sociology, published at the University of Chicago. The educator gives the pastime a clean bill of health ahead of the recreations indulged in by the colleges of the land.

Prof. Howard makes a vigorous attack upon intercollegiate athletics, declaring them an unmixed evil, and recommending that they be abandoned. He declares that college athletics spectacles lower the moral tone of the spectator's emotions, destroy the most important business of the institutions and threaten to bring on other evils more serious.

"Under existing conditions," he declares, "the spectator crowd at an intercollegiate football contest fosters ideals much lower than those suggested by a game of professional baseball."

In handing the glory to baseball and criticizing other sports, Prof. Howard writes:

"Psychologically, for instance, the great American game of baseball is a powerful democratic agent. Vast crowds of both sexes and of all ages, persons of every economic, social, religious or intellectual class touch shoulders. They shout, thrill and gesture in sympathy. They are just human beings, with the differentials of rank or vocation laid aside.

"The chief menace to the general use of recreation activities comes from the extraordinary vogue of college athletic spectacles. The primary business of the student is, or ought to be, to study. Naturally, he is inactive during a third or more of the day. There is plenty of time left for restful recreation if it be made use of. But the student cannot keep his body and mental energy up to the mark by exercising vicariously. The vicarious play of the team, however fascinating, does not exercise the spectator's muscles.

"It is imperative that college authorities recognize the function of recreation. At whatever cost for facilities, every student should be physically as well as mentally educated, and the most efficient mental, even moral, education depends on physical education. Moreover, play for all is the best form of educational recreation.

"A similar example of mental perversion, an absurd and immoral custom tenaciously held fast in mob mind, has its genesis in the partisan zeal of athletic spectator crowds. I refer to the practice of organized cheering known in college 'argot' as 'rooting.' From every aspect it is bad. Morally it stands on the level of the 'toe hold,' the card trick, the stuffed ballot box, tainted news of the campaign canard and, like the canard, it is apt to prove a 'boomerang'."

Johnson Picks Foster. Eddie Foster has been picked by Ban Johnson as the best young player in the American league this season. The little Chicago lad is worthy of the honor because he has helped the Senators climb into second place.

$50,000 OFFER FOR JOHNSON

President of Boston Red Sox Makes Big Bid for Star Pitcher of Washington Team.

The Detroit Evening Journal publishes the following Boston dispatch: James McAleer, president of the Red Sox, has offered $50,000 cash for Walter Johnson, Washington's wonderful pitcher. It is the highest price ever offered for a baseball player—about twice the Marty O'Toole figure.

That shows just how anxious President McAleer is to win the world's series. Here is the story. McAleer, with Ban Johnson and Clark Griffith and a number of other friends, was dining at a club in Washington. The talk was baseball and McAleer finally looked at Griffith and said: "I'll give you $50,000 for Johnson and you turn him over to me tomorrow. Here's a thousand dollars right now to bind the agreement."

"Are you kidding me?" was the reply of the Senator's manager.

"No, I'm not kidding," replied McAleer. "Here's the $1,000 on the table."

Griffith refused to consider the offer.

URGE TRAINERS FOR PLAYERS

Little or No Attention Paid to Physical Condition After Preliminary Season Is Finished.

A good many professional athletes do things which amateurs never would think of doing. This is particularly true of baseball players.

In order that the point may be understood, one must appreciate the hardships under which amateurs get ready for contests. They quit smoking and their diet is regulated with as much science back of it as a physician gives to a patient. The amateur mortifies his flesh and punishes his stomach with the one single idea of making himself proficient in the contests in which he has undertaken to engage.

The professional baseball player, on the contrary, pays little or no attention to training after the preliminary season is finished. The average baseball player, like every other human being who exercises a good deal, gets pretty hungry and permits himself to over eat, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. After dinner, while loafing around the hotel he over smokes and few of them take very good care of themselves generally.

They do not ever drink as a rule, but they have other foolish ways of not taking care of themselves. The average baseball player is in such a hurry to get to the bus after the game that he does not properly clothe himself and a good many of them find themselves stiffened up after a hot finish because they ride to the hotel without properly cooling off.

What every baseball team ought to have is a professional trainer who has absolute power and control over the physical welfare of the men. He should be a heartless dictator, whose orders are to be obeyed, and the management should back him up in everything he does. In this way baseball players could be kept in condition and it is about the only way that good condition can be assured.

No Chance for Doolin.

Garry Herrmann says there's no chance of the Reds getting Red Doolin from Philadelphia for the simple reason the Reds have nothing to give for him.

SPITBALL ARTISTS ATTRACT ATTENTION

Jimmy Lavender of Chicago Cubs.

Chief interest in the National league pennant chase no longer centers about the hurling achievements of Richard Le Marquis, alias Rube Marquard. How the wrynecked, tall and rangy southpaw of the New York Giants carved his niche in the pitching hall of fame by winning 19 straight has been jotted down on history's page three successive beatings following the establishment of that high-water mark.

Other truly greats have risen to take prominent places in the headline section, notably Larry Cheney, Jimmy Lavender and Marty O'Toole past-masters in the art of twirling could be counted on the fingers of one hand. In fact, John J. McGraw, maker of champions, contends there have been only three real spitball marvels—Jack Chesbro, Ed Walsh and Russell Ford. Two other veteran field generals, likewise makers of champions, Frank Chance and Fred Clarke take issue with McGraw on this point.

The Cub leader would add the names of Lavender and Cheney, his present-day slab phenoms, to those of Walsh, Chesbro and Ford. Down Pittsburgh way Clarke holds his $22,500 find, the sorrel-topped O'Toole, as the one best bet of all time. Spitball heavies are bobbing up with startling regularity and setting a lively pace for the curving wizards who dote only upon the ancient and honored roundhouse delivery, and another season or two will probably find the moistened delivery in general use on all clubs.

Nineteen Innings "Mackerels" Battled With the Nationals

Eddie Plank Loses When Collins Makes a Wild Heave.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—A wild throw by Eddie Collins when he was trying to complete a double play in the nineteenth inning scored Walter Johnson with the deciding run which enabled Washington to defeat the Athletics by 5 to 4. The contest broke all American league records in this town for the number of innings, and also was the longest major league game of the season.

MR. JONES AT CHURCH.

"Mary, did you see Mr. Jones in church, Sunday?"
"Yes, Grace, and I hardly recognized him, as I thought he was bald or nearly so. What has he done?"

"Well, Mary, Mrs. Jones told me that he has been using Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream and he is so pleased he can't talk about anything else."

"If people would only take care of their hair, keep the scalp free from dirt, dandruff and itching scales, with this English Tonic, Herb Shampoo, an abundance of healthy hair would be the result."

"I know a lot of people who are using Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream. They are all so enthusiastic over it. Blackmer and Tanquary, our local druggists, sell it; 25c a tube, enough for three or four shampoos." They will return your money if you don't like it.

BEWARE OF IMPURE SHOES

Such shoes will not wear. They won't hold their shape. They can't stand the abuse and hard knocks. And they cost you more in the end.

The "STAR BRAND" manufacturers are making a strenuous fight to get a bill passed requiring every manufacturer of shoes containing substitutes for leather to stamp their shoes accordingly.

You can't continue wearing shoes containing substitutes. You're putting your life in danger. You're cheating yourself on every pair you buy. "STAR BRAND" shoes are honestly made of good leather. No substitutes for leather are ever used.

Try one pair of "STAR BRAND" Shoes. You'll find them better shoes than you have ever worn. Take our word for it. If you don't find them better bring them back and we'll give you another pair.

Result of a Queen's Anger

One of the curiosities of London, both to look at from outside and for its traditional story, is St. John's church, South square, Westminster. According to one tradition—there are several variants—the extraordinary shape of the building, whence it gets its name, the "Footstool church," was due to a queen's—"good Queen Anne"—having lost her temper one day. The architect worried Queen Anne about details of the design. Her majesty, at length losing patience, kicked her footstool over, and replied in anger: "Build it like that." The architect fulfilled the royal wishes, and the church was built as it stands today, with the corners protruding upwards like the four legs of a capsize footstool.

OPPORTUNITY PRESENTED TO SECURE CHAUTAUQUA

Only Condition Attached Is That 25 Washington Citizens Band Together and Guarantee Any Small Deficit Which Might Result First Year—Everyone Is Desirous of Securing Event.

Supt. R. S. Harmount, of the Jamestown Public Schools, is in the city today to ascertain whether or not Washington citizens desire a Chautauqua next year, and if such is the case Washington and Fayette Citizens will be afforded an opportunity to attend a Home Chautauqua in every way equal to those in surrounding towns and cities.

Mr. Harmount, in addition to being superintendent of the Jamestown schools has successfully managed the Jamestown Chautauqua for the past three years, and another, bigger and better than ever before, is being planned for next year.

Mr. Harmount's plan is to offer a line of attractions that will be good drawing cards, and to have local men interest themselves in the chautauqua and have a local man handle the financial end.

Plans do not call for holding the chautauqua in the sales pavilion, but upon a suitable tract of land with plenty of good water and shade, and to feature the affair with tents where entire families may spend ten days enjoying camp life.

The dates of the event would be July 18 to 27, inclusive.

As there is no question but what a successful chautauqua can be held here (which is demonstrated by the fact that Jamestown and other towns of 1100 to 5,000 can make a success of like events) all depends upon securing some 25 persons who will stand back of the event, and guarantee any small deficit that might result from the first year's session. A small deficit is hardly likely to occur, however, but the assurance is necessary before the event can be secured.

Saturday afternoon Mr. Harmount met a number of local citizens, and practically all greatly favored holding a chautauqua here next year.

County Convention Closes With Gold Medal Contest

With a most interesting program Friday afternoon, followed by a gold medal contest at the East End chapel the W. C. T. U. County convention finished a session that marks another milestone in its work for temperance.

The afternoon session was called at 1:30 and the hours were brimful with reports and business in addition to the annual address of the president, Mrs. Alice Taggart, of Jeffersonville.

The women listened with absorbed attention to the president's address, an able one, telling of work accomplished during the past year and suggesting plans for the coming year. These plans include institute meetings throughout the county and Mrs. Taggart's personal visits to the different unions.

The president expressed the regret of the organization over the carrying of the "license" amendment.

Excellent reports were presented by Mrs. Frank M. Kennedy, Supt. of franchise; Mrs. Frank E. Haines, superintendent Flower mission; Mrs. Chas. Stafford, superintendent Scientific Temperance department; Mrs. Boggs, superintendent of fairs; Mrs. Hallie King, superintendent medal contests; Mrs. Laura York, superintendent physical culture; Miss Clara Stitt, superintendent Christian citizenship; Miss Icy Allen, superintendent of the press.

The handsome banner offered for the union doing the best work in physical culture was presented to the Sugar Grove union, the representative of that union also winning the gold medal last night.

FUNERAL OF MR. AUGUST F. SPRENGER.

The funeral services of Mr. August F. Sprenger were conducted by Rev. T. W. Locke, of Grace church at the Sprenger residence at 1:30 Friday afternoon.

The home was filled with a sorrowful concourse of friends, who sympathized deeply with the family in the terrible shock of Mr. Sprenger's death.

The husband and father had been the first to break the family circle and the five sons and one daughter were all gathered with their mother for the sad services.

Born in Germany in 1838, Mr. Sprenger had come to America when only 8 years old and since his marriage with Miss Hess in 1866 had made this city his home.

Mr. Sprenger's quiet home life was rounded out in duties fulfilled and he commanded the universal respect of all who knew him.

Rev. Locke followed the reading of the brief memoir with remarks of comfort to the family, enlarging upon what it meant to have such a family circle. He had entire charge of the services owing to Rev. Campbell's absence from home.

The hymns, "Crossing the Bar" and "Some Day We'll Understand," were read.

Many beautiful floral remembrances were sent from relatives and friends, among them casket spray of carnations from the Inspection Bureau of Louisville, Ky.; spray of roses, Imperial Degree Staff; roses, Temple lodge and encampment; immense spray pink dahlias, Livingston Seed Co., Columbus; white dahlia spray, sisters in Cincinnati;

The 1913 convention will be a day and a half session with a state worker present, and will be held at Jeffersonville.

The list of delegates to the State W. C. T. U. convention to be held at Lima was only partially completed. Mrs. Taggart, county president, goes as a member of the Executive Board, Mrs. Harry King from Sugar Grove, Mrs. W. Williams from Jeffersonville, Mrs. Hallie King from Cook, Miss Dora Eggleston from Bloomingburg union, and others will be slated later.

Two new members were received, Mrs. Chas. Allen to the Washington C. H. union, and Miss Viola Ardman to Good Hope union.

The gold medal oratorical contest at the East End chapel was a decided success from the standpoint of six splendid speakers and an interesting program, but the attendance was not as large as expected.

The contestants were Mrs. Inez England, Cook; Miss Vernon Wilson, Staunton; Miss Dorothy Saxton, Miss Lucy Edna Pine, Washington; Miss Mabel North, Miss Marguerite Wilson, Sugar Grove.

The judges, Messrs. Henry Brownell, Jay Williams, Carey Baughn awarded the medal to Miss Wilson, who is a talented speaker, after a short conference.

Rev. Hostetter presented the medal, with an excellent little talk.

Piano solos and duets played by Dwight Ireland and Misses Lillian and Kathleen Davis, Mary Weaver and Doris McFadden, added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Presbyterian church choir, spray; Presbyterian S. S. wreath of galley leaves and roses; basket red roses, clerks in Fred Springer's book store; spray from the girls of Miss Alta Sprenger's S. S. class; spray, Rebekah lodge.

A number of friends accompanied the family to the Washington cemetery for the burial.

The pallbearers were the five sons, Charles, of Louisville, Ky.; Will, Fred, Harry and Walter and a nephew Mr. Ernest Cobart, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sprenger and baby, of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Elizabeth Riechter, of Cincinnati, a sister; Mr. Henry Sprenger, a nephew, and wife, of Cincinnati; Mr. Ernest Cobart, of Wheeling, W. Va., and Mrs. Siener, of Columbus, were here from a distance to attend the funeral.

Last Sunday Before Conference

Result of a Queen's Anger

One of the curiosities of London, both to look at from outside and for its traditional story, is St. John's church, South square, Westminster. According to one tradition—there are several variants—the extraordinary shape of the building, whence it gets its name, the "Footstool church," was due to a queen's "good Queen Anne"—having lost her temper one day. The architect worried Queen Anne about details of the design. Her majesty, at length losing patience, kicked her footstool over, and replied in anger: "Build it like that." The architect fulfilled the royal wishes, and the church was built as it stands today, with the corners protruding upwards like the four legs of a capsize footstool.

OPPORTUNITY PRESENTED TO SECURE CHAUTAUQUA

Only Condition Attached Is That 25 Washington Citizens Band Together and Guarantee Any Small Deficit Which Might Result First Year—Everyone Is Desirous of Securing Event.

Supt. R. S. Harmount, of the Jamestown Public schools, is in the city today to ascertain whether or not Washington citizens desire a Chautauqua next year, and if such is the case Washington and Fayette Citizens will be afforded an opportunity to attend a Home Chautauqua in every way equal to those in surrounding towns and cities.

Mr. Harmount, in addition to being superintendent of the Jamestown schools has successfully managed the Jamestown Chautauqua for the past three years, and another, bigger and better than ever before, is being planned for next year.

Mr. Harmount's plan is to offer a line of attractions that will be good drawing cards, and to have local men interest themselves in the chautauqua and have a local man handle the financial end.

Plans do not call for holding the chautauqua in the sales pavilion, but upon a suitable tract of land with plenty of good water and shade, and to feature the affair with tents where entire families may spend ten days enjoying camp life.

The dates of the event would be July 18 to 27, inclusive.

As there is no question but what a successful chautauqua can be held here (which is demonstrated by the fact that Jamestown and other towns of 1100 to 5,000 can make a success of like events) all depends upon securing some 25 persons who will stand back of the event, and guarantee any small deficit that might result from the first year's session. A small deficit is hardly likely to occur, however, but the assurance is necessary before the event can be secured.

Saturday afternoon Mr. Harmount met a number of local citizens, and practically all greatly favored holding a chautauqua here next year.

County Convention Closes With Gold Medal Contest

With a most interesting program Friday afternoon, followed by a gold medal contest at the East End chapel the W. C. T. U. County convention finished a session that marks another milestone in its work for temperance. The afternoon session was called at 1:30 and the hours were brimful with reports and business in addition to the annual address of the president, Mrs. Alice Taggart, of Jeffersonville.

The women listened with absorbed attention to the president's address, an able one, telling of work accomplished during the past year and suggesting plans for the coming year. These plans include institute meetings throughout the county and Mrs. Taggart's personal visits to the different unions.

The president expressed the regret of the organization over the carrying of the "license" amendment.

Excellent reports were presented by Mrs. Frank M. Kennedy, Supt. of franchise; Mrs. Frank E. Haines, superintendent of flower mission; Mrs. Chas. Stafford, superintendent of Scientific Temperance department; Mrs. Boggs, superintendent of fairs; Mrs. Hallie King, superintendent of medal contests; Mrs. Laura York, superintendent of physical culture; Miss Clara Stitt, superintendent of Christian citizenship; Miss Icy Allen, superintendent of the press.

The handsome banner offered for the union doing the best work in physical culture was presented to the Sugar Grove union, the representative of that union also winning the gold medal last night.

The 1913 convention will be a day and a half session with a state work present, and will be held at Jeffersonville.

The list of delegates to the State W. C. T. U. convention to be held at Lima was only partially completed. Mrs. Taggart, county president, goes as a member of the Executive Board, Mrs. Harry King from Sugar Grove, Mrs. W.
